

NEUROLOGICAL SUPPORT

ADVANCED NUTRITIONAL RECOMMENDATIONS FOR NEUROLOGICAL SUPPORT†

Xtra-Cell® Remilyn:

A frozen liquid extract to help support nerve cell functions consisting of specific proteins, peptides and other cell-signaling molecules obtained from aqueous extracts of porcine mesenchyme and CNS tissues as well as specialized marine liquid cartilage extract.†

Product Code: 99461 Suggested Usage: One bottle daily

Brain ENERGY:

The amino acids tyrosine and phenylalanine are compounds used by the brain to produce dopamine, the brain's source of power and energy. This unique product is specially formulated to support dopamine production for a more energetic brain.†

Product Code: 98723 Suggested Usage: Two vegetarian capsules daily

Brain MOOD:

Serotonin, along with its amino acid precursor, tryptophan, allows the brain to restore itself to maintain a level mood. The most important nutrients for serotonin production have been included in this formula, to help maintain the brain's symmetry and stabilize mood.†

Product Code: 98724 Suggested Usage: One vegetarian capsule, three times daily

Brain CALM:

GABA ensures that the brainwaves operate in harmony and rhythm, allowing the brain to maintain a calm state.† This product is an effective blend of critical amino acids and nutrients that provide support for a calmer brain.†

Product Code: 99579 Suggested Usage: Two vegetarian capsules daily

Brain MEMORY:

Among its many roles, choline is necessary for the production of acetylcholine. The brain's ability to process and recall information quickly is dependent on acetylcholine production. The combination of nutrients in this product is designed to help produce the acetylcholine the brain needs to stay sharp.†

Product Code: 99580 Suggested Usage: Two vegetarian capsules daily

Alpha-GPC:

Glycerolphosphorylcholine (GPC choline) is a water-soluble pro-phospholipid found in high quantities in adult tissue and breast milk. While not a true phospholipid, the body can convert it readily into phosphatidylcholine, the most abundant phospholipid found in the body. Human studies indicate that GPC may play important roles in maintaining neurological health.†
